HARDING PROPOSES MEMBERSHIP IN COURT

PRESIDENT IN SENATE NOTE ASKS CONSENT OF BODY FOR SUCH STEP

Declares Tribunal Offers an Opportunity for the United States to Aid in Preserving World Stability Without Assuming Any Legal Relation to the Peace League

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Conditional American membership in the international court set up by the league of nations was proposed today by President Harding. In a message to the senate, asking that it advise and consent to such a step the president declared the tribunal offered an opportunity thru which the United States could demonstrate its willingness to aid in preserving world stability without in any manner assuming "any legal relation to the league."

Four reservations, the first of which would specifically disclaim any obligations under the league, were suggested by Mr. Harding as necessary conditions to membership in the court. The others would give this government a voice in selecting the judges of the court and in making changes in its basic resolutions and would provide that congress determine what part of the expenses of the tribunal are to be paid out of the American treasury.

The president's message came as a surprise to senators generally and all indications pointed to a delay in senate action on the arrangement until the session of congress which meets in December.

BELIEVE MARCINO IS MAKING FOR CANADIAN BORDER

Master Bank Robber May Still be Hiding in This Country

(By The Associated Press)

BOSTON, Feb. 24.—Canada rather than Mexico is the flight objective of Joseph B. Marcino, the barber-banker in Chicago, who is sought as the wrecker of the First National Bank of Warren and several other institutions in the opinion of federal officials here. These authorities today expressed the belief that Marcino was still in this country. A wide canvass of the possible places in which he might have obtained a passport between the time this he is alleged to have cleared out of the Warren bank its $213,000 in bonds and sold them in Buffalo, convinced them that he had not sailed for South America as reported either from a Mexican port or from this country.

Marcino is now definitely accepted by the federal authorities as the master hand in the Warren bank wrecking, officials said. They have dropped the charge of embezzlement against Frank L. Taylor, the $50 a week president of the Warren bank who was given his job by Marcino and let that charge stand in a warrant against Marcino. The warrant on which Taylor will be brought here from Chicago for trial will charge misapplication of the bank's funds, and contention being that he allowed Marcino access to the vaults in which the bonds were kept.

In the work of re-organizing what may be possible of the bonds taken from the Warren institution and sold in Buffalo, National Bank Examiner Bean received further federal support today by his appointment as temporary receiver of the bank by Comptroller of the Currency Crissinger. Bean spent the day in consultation here with United States Attorney Sullivan. These officials will have charge of the prosecution of Taylor and of Abraham, Goldman, father-in-law of Marcino and principal stockholder in the Warren bank who was arrested at Chicago today.

Alpho Examiner Bean has not disclosed the conditions that he found at the Warren bank when he was called in there by the directors early this week, he said today that he would continue to maintain silence until all tangles of the case were cleared up. An announcement was made at the federal building that government agents had located practically all of the missing bonds—the entire lot it was said being held within a narrow circle of banks, firms or individuals in Buffalo.

EFFORTS SERVE TO PAVE WAY FOR DEATH OF SHIPPING BILL

Motion to Send Bill Back Will be Voted on Monday

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Proponents of the administration shipping bill demonstrated their superior strength today in the senate, but their efforts only served to pave the way for the death of the agreement on Monday.

Those supporting the measure, although openly conceding it to be doomed, defeated the opponents of two roll calls by the identical vote of 46 to 38. One vote was a motion by Senator Robinson of Arkansas, acting Democratic leader, to table the pending motion to proceed with consideration of the bill. The second was on the motion to proceed with the bill, which was made Wednesday night after the measure had been laid aside to permit action on two conference reports.

Thus the shipping bill was temporarily revived, but Senator Robinson immediately presented a motion to send the bill back to the commerce commission and to its death. This motion by agreement was left pending when the senate adjourned and will come to a vote soon after one o'clock Monday. Supporters of the bill expect to defeat this motion.

The end of the agreement for this congress and of similar shipping agreements for at least two or more years, then will come on a motion expected to be made by Senator Ladd, Republican, of North Dakota, to lay aside the bill and take up the filled milk measure. Senator Jones, Republican, of Washington, in charge of the shipping bill, said today he would vote for the Ladd motion and many of the Republicans who voted today to keep the measure alive are expected to join with him in such numbers as to pass the motion. Such action would put the shipping bill beyond possibility of further consideration before adjournment.

Supporters of the ship bill claimed that the vote today on the motion by Senator Jones to take up the measure for consideration showed that the agreement could have been passed in the senate if it had not been prevented by the filibuster from coming to a vote. The roll call on his motion follows:

For the motion: Republicans—Ball, Brandagee, Bursum, Calder, Cameron, Cummins, Curtis, Dillingham, Ernest, Fernald, Freylichusen, Gooding, Hale, Harrell, Johnson, Jones, of Washington, Kellogg, Keyes, Lenroot, Lodge, McCumber, McKim, McLeary, Moses, Nelson, New, Oddie, Paze, Pepper, Poindexter, Reid of Pennsylvania, Shortridge, Smoot, Spencer, Sterling, Sutherland, Townsend, Wadsworth, Warren, Watson, Welder and Willis; Democrats—Broussard, Penrose and Randall. Total, 49.

Against motion: Borah, Brookhart, Capper, Coughlin, Ladd, La Follette, McNary, Norris and Stanford, 9. Democrats, Ashurst, Bayard, Caraway, Culberson, Dill, Fletcher, George, Glass, Harris, Harrison, Hefflin, Hitchcock, Jones of New Mexico, Kendrick, King, McKellar, Myers, Overman, Pittman, Robinson, Sheppard, Shields, Smith, Stanley, Swanson, Trammell, Walsh of Massachusetts, Walsh of Montana, and Williams, 29. Total, 38.

THE DAY'S EVENTS IN WASHINGTON

Administration leaders finally abandoned hopes of passing the shipping bill and agreed in the senate to a vote to dispose of it early next week.

The house banking committee completed a composite farm credits bill embracing the principal features of the Lenroot-Anderson-Capper and Strong measures.

A senate committee recommended unanimously that there be an investigation of the veterans' bureau by a joint committee during the recess of congress.

President Harding asked the senate to authorize American membership in the permanent court of international justice organized under the auspices of the league of nations.

The process of entering the court without going into the league could be accepted, the president and Secretary Hughes suggested, by simply becoming a party to the agreement signed by the league members in December, 1920, formally putting the court plan into effect.

Reply Brief Filed By Board of Trade

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—A reply brief was filed in the supreme court today by counsel for the Chicago board of trade in the case it has brought to test the validity of the future trading act and which will come up for argument next Monday.

Replying to the government's contention that the stock yards and packers act, recently held constitutional by the court, was broadly similar to the future trading law, upon it the latter should be sustained, Henry S. Robbins, declared in the brief that the former future trading act had been declared unconstitutional at the time the stock yards act was upheld, and suggested that the court would in the present instance make the obvious distinction between the two laws. The only difference between the future trading act, he insisted is the "false reason" given in the latter for its enactment.

Amplification its distinction between the present futures act and the packers act, the brief asserted that the latter did not seek to regulate trading upon membership in a commercial exchange and that there is no future trading in livestock upon an exchange elsewhere. The stock yards are a public market, in which all can resort to trade, the brief stated and the Chicago Board of Trade is a private corporation whose charter imposes

FRENCH SOLDIERS SEIZE SEVERAL TONS OF MARKS SATURDAY

Over Twelve Billion Fresh from Reichsbank Taken

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Feb. 24.—A consignment of 12,000,000 marks, fresh from the reichsbank and the plates belonging to the reichsbank, were seized by French soldiers today from the Berlin-Cologne express at the small tank station of Hensley, near Hagen. The soldiers boarded the train just as it was coming into the station and ransacked every compartment at the point of the bayonet.

Finally the soldiers uncovered the crisp new marks hidden away in a third class compartment.

Two reichsbank guards vainly protested the seizure.

The soldiers also took duplicate sets of copper plates for an issue of 20,000 mark notes. Both the money and plates were on the way to the reichsbank's Rhine-Ruhr branches. The cash seized amounts to only a small fraction of the bank's daily output in currency, yet the officials are highly incensed at the seizure, claiming the money as well as the plates is private property absolutely immune from confiscation. They believe that the French will not be able to make practical use of the plates, since a special quality of paper is required to print the 20,000 mark notes.

The German government will make immediate demands to the French and Belgian governments for restoration of the money and plates on the ground that they are private property.

LIGHT BRIGADE HERO STILL BATTLING DEATH

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Ontario, Feb. 24.—Thomas W. Shaw, surviving member of light brigade which made itself immortal with its charge on a Russian battery at Balaklava in 1854 today still was fighting a valiant battle against death in Victoria hospital.

But although the 91 year old cavalryman was clinging tenaciously to life the doctors said that he faced inevitable defeat. Bronchitis which yesterday caused his removal to the hospital was closing his death-like fingers on his throat.

WHISTLING BUOY TRAVELS 3000 MILES

London, Feb. 24.—A whistling buoy, reported lost from the St. Lawrence river a year ago has been washed ashore at Bryher, one of the Sicily Islands. It is 20 feet in circumference and 12 feet high. The carbide gas light case was wrenched from the top of the buoy on its journey of 3,000 miles.

Warsaw, Feb. 24.—French newspapers are no longer reaching Poland. It is reported that German train crews are throwing off the bundles while they are in transit across Germany.

upon it "no duty to the public." The packers act it asserted applies to a business in which the livestock comes on the hoof to the stock yards and was justified by the existence of real, serious and direct encroachment upon interstate commerce.

On the other hand it continued, the grain futures act was based upon a mere pretense of a burden which, if it were a reality, would not incidentally effect that commerce. The packers act, deals directly with a condition of an interstate character; the grain futures act attempts to regulate what is wholly intrastate.

It is "confidently believed" the brief announced that the court would conclude that the claim that the transactions upon the Chicago Board of Trade constitute a burden upon interstate commerce has no foundation in fact.

Replying to some government assertions regarding price fluctuations being caused by gambling, the brief claims that many of the fluctuations complained of has not been caused by "inaccurate" reports of the shipment of agriculture respecting crop prospects.

Congress as well as the courts, has recognized, the brief asserted, that the great benefits accruing to the grain trade from this vast future market could only be released by the maintenance of an open market to which all speculators might resort.

ALLEGED ROBBER OF PAYMASTER IS TAKEN BY POSSE

Andy Vezoskey Arrested Near Where Loot is Found

(By The Associated Press)

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio, Feb. 24.—Andy Vezoskey, captured by a posse, in a deep gully in the hills of southeastern Ohio, is in jail here tonight charged with robbing Charles Moss, paymaster for the Akron Coal company, of $16,000. The money was found in a suit case shortly before Vezoskey was apprehended. Moss who was shot in the arm by the robber, is in a local hospital but the wound is said not to be serious. Vezoskey refuses to talk.

The scene of the holdup is a lonely road between two mines owned by the Akron Coal company.

Arraigned tonight before Mayor Stewart, Vezoskey pleaded not guilty to charges of assault with intent to rob and robbery and was held in $6,000 bond. Vezoskey is a miner and was employed by the King's mine, the payroll for which he is charged with having attempted to seize.

BELIEVE AVIATORS PERISHED IN DESERT

(By The Associated Press)

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Feb. 24.—Belief that Colonel Francis Marshall and Lieutenant Charles Webber missing since December 7 last crashed in their shipwreck in the deserts southeast of the Groaty district in Arizona and that their bodies and the plane were buried by the shifting sands was expressed today by the search party headed by Major Theodore MacAuley.

The party returned today to Rockwell Field after a long search. The members have gone over a large stretch of territory in northern and southwestern Arizona.

OVERRULES MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL

CHARLES CITY, Ia., Feb. 24.—Judge C. H. Kelly of Ford county district court today overruled the motion for a new trial for B. F. Kneeskern, twice convicted of the slaying of Mrs. Irene Brocklin who with her husband Charles was killed in their cabin home on a Kneeskern farm near Frankville in December 1921.

On overruling the motion for a new trial Judge Kelly sentenced Kneeskern to life imprisonment as recommended by the jury. He will be taken to the Fort Madison state prison tonight. Kneeskern still can appeal his case to the state supreme court.

REACH TENTATIVE AGREEMENT ON THE RURAL CREDITS BILL

Believe it Will be Approved by Various Groups

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 24.—Tentative agreement was reached today by the house banking committee on a rural credits bill which both chairman McFadden and Representative Wingo of Arkansas ranking Democrats said they believed would be approved by the various groups in the congressional row which has attended consideration of the subject. As drawn, but subject to final vote by the committee, the bill embraces the Capper and Lenroot-Anderson measure, passed by the senate, and the Strong bill, passed by the house.

Concessions are understood to have been made all around in an effort to agree on a program which would command the greatest support of the house. All three measures, members said were amended to prevent any possible overlapping and to remove what might be construed as legal obstacles.

The bill carries the provisions of the Lenroot-Anderson bill creating credit banks under supervision of the farm loan bank system, but amended the section to limit the capital stock to $60,000,000. As passed by the senate, the bill would have authorized $120,000,000 would have been authorized. The credit banks, also under the direction of the farm loan bank directors, would be independent in so far as their assets and liabilities are concerned.

Chairman McFadden expressed confidence that the provision would not be further amended.

Acceptance by the committee of many provisions of the Lenroot-Anderson measure including the intermediate credits system, according to the committee, would tend to harmonize the differences in the house and permit quick passage of the measure on Tuesday, when it is taken up. Farm loan leaders were silent tonight, preferring to have an opportunity to study the measure before expressing an opinion on same.

The Capper bill provides for the encouragement of small banks to enter the federal reserve system, and for the organization of private discount corporations. It was urged by Secretary Mellon as adequate farm agreement for this session of congress. Secretaries Wallace and Hoover, however, approved also the Lenroot-Anderson bill which was originally endorsed by the joint commission of agricultural inquiry. The commission did not decide the manner in which the Capper bill or the Lenroot-Anderson measure had been changed in order to "draw" them.

The Strong bill liberalizing loan provisions of the farm loan bank system was included virtually as it passed the house. In an effort to have the measure in the hands of the house membership on Monday the committee worked late tonight and announced that it also would be in session tomorrow preparing the measure.

WHITE MAN CONVICTED OF NEGRESS' MURDER

(By The Associated Press)

GREENVILLE, Ga., Feb. 24.—Will Hendrix, 29, white, was convicted of murder today in connection with the killing of Mattie Cox 13 year old negro girl, last November. He was sentenced to serve a life term. On the witness stand in his own defense yesterday Hendrix accused his father of the murder. The father will go on trial Tuesday, charged with the same crime. During the trial an alleged bill was uncovered to force the girl to return home. In her dying statement she named the father Hendrix of shooting her. Bill Woodward, a negro, the only eye witness of the crime, said the younger Hendrix killed her.

Create Amusement for the Crowded Galleries—Talk of Senators Getting Drunk and Other Charges Fill Discussion—Gallivan Pays His Respects to Wayne B. Wheeler

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Foes and friends of prohibition in the house met today in an oratorical encounter which kept the membership in an uproar for nearly an hour and apparently furnished a great deal of delight to crowded galleries.

Aroused by assaults on the Volstead act by Representatives Gallivan, Democrat and Tinkham, Republican, both of Massachusetts, Representatives Crampton, Republican, Upshaw, Democrat, Georgia, and other "dry" leaders hit back as their followers shouted or applauded their approval. Addresses of the Massachusetts members, and more especially that of Mr. Gallivan, were criticized. As the storm broke the three "wet" leaders, Representatives Tinkham, Gallivan and Hill, Republican of Maryland, gathered together on a front row, laughing and occasionally seeking to interrupt the speakers.

"Why all this nonsense?" demanded Representative Blanton, Democrat, Texas, in closing the debate. "But for the two gentlemen from Massachusetts and the rider of the white charger from Baltimore (Mr. Hill), this house would be unanimously 'dry.' They are three of a kind, but they could draw until eternity and never fill their hand."

Opening the address with a prepared address, Mr. Gallivan told the house that he had observed from a Washington newspaper that the anti-saloon league now proposed to make members of congress "drink as they vote."

He then announced that he would name white "dry" members who "religiously vote as the league tells them to vote." And who "take a drink and like a drink," raised their hands. "Why Mr. Chairman," he said, after the pause, "all I can see around this chamber is halos. Well, I guess we are all sober this morning (laughter), even the senator got drunk the other night—A 'dry' senator—and they had to stop him from answering a roll call, and it took two of his colleagues to hold him."

Representative Blanton objected to such a reference to a senator.

"I am not violating the rules of my house when I refer to dry senators getting drunk, returned Mr. Gallivan amid laughter and Mr. Blanton stood his ground, insisting on his point as a member shouted, "too late, too late."

"I will say, Mr. Speaker," continued Mr. Gallivan, "that if the language with reference to the 'dry' senator who is a friend of my friend from Texas, hurts his feelings."

"He is not a friend of mine," shouted Mr. Blanton. I withdraw (Continued on Page Four.)

STABILIZATION OF FARM PRODUCTS IS PRIMARY PURPOSE

A. C. Townley Head of the New Organization

(By The Associated Press)

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 24.—Stabilization of farm products prices is the primary purpose of a new farm organization, the launching of which with A. C. Townley, former president of the National Non-Partisan League, as its head, was announced today by the leaders in the movement.

"The new organization, for which a nation-wide scope is planned, is named the National Producers' Alliance, and was formed by seventy-five farmers from twelve states, at a meeting last night, it was announced. Under the new organization prices of farm products will be stabilized thru voluntary provisions control of acreage, and dissemination of price and market information and advice."

The alliance, the announcement says, proposes to: Organize the farmers into precinct units in extensive organization plan similar to that which made the Non-Partisan league unique; Cause farmers to keep accurate accounts as to crop acreage and costs, with quarterly meetings of precinct units to compare costs of farmers and make reports to a general headquarters on the acreage and cost of production of each crop in each crop area.

Establish a central bureau to compile statistics thus gathered, study market and price conditions, and issue periodical information and advise members as to acreage to plant and the favorable time for marketing.

Displacement of the Non-Partisan League, Mr. Townley said, not to be, but the new one which he considered as non-political and partisan will take no "hand in politics."

The Non-Partisan league will continue as the "political" arrangement of the farmers," he said.

Organization of the alliance will be started in Minnesota and North and South Dakota at once, Mr. Townley declared.

If some of the great newspapers of the country would wage war against violations of the prohibition laws with as much good will as they are showing in the fight against dope a great improvement would be noted in liquor conditions.

President Harding's suggestion that the U. S. take membership in the international court of justice established at The Hague should satisfy at least some of the many people who continually argue that this country can no longer hope to hold itself aloof from world affairs.

Certainly one of the most just laws proposed is a revision of the traffic measure as related to heavy trucks. Every effort should be made to prevent the destruction of hard roads in Illinois by these heavy trucks. It is said that in Southern Illinois a vast amount of damage is done by trucks from Missouri, on which not even a license is paid in Illinois.

Duncan-Clark, editorial writer of the Chicago Post, is to make an address tonight in a Jacksonville church, relative to European conditions. Mr. Clark had a long period of personal observation of affairs on the other side and since that time has been a continued student of European conditions. His views are well worth careful consideration.

Senator Brookhart is fulfilling expectations and is taking an active part in senatorial affairs not warranted either by his experience or knowledge.

Another diamond salesman claims to have been robbed in a downtown office building in Chicago. This salesman claims a loss of $100,000. There really must be a conspiracy of thieves to rob all these salesmen of precious stones.

It does not yet appear just what the purpose is of the representative who has introduced a bill in the Illinois legislature to abolish all the Anti-Horse Thief associations in the state. There is small chance of this measure receiving any serious consideration.

No weighty arguments have been introduced against the proposed state police force. From an unprejudiced viewpoint the bill is a correct one against law breakers. Country conditions have changed so much in these latter years that the country communities are just as much entitled to police protection as are the cities and towns.

The Anti-Saloon league in New York investigation admits that it engages in politics, but says further that the purpose is merely to attain the legitimate ends of the organization.

At any rate, the league is frank, for many organizations while active in political affairs issue denials of such activities.

on that the mistake was sent to help you avoid a greater mistake.

Take a reckless auto driver, defying the fates and by his carelessness endangering his life and others. He has a narrow escape or a small smashup. Unless he is inclined to be feeble-minded, the incident sober him, makes him more careful. This probably prevents a big accident later.

Or take a man drinking himself to death. He wakes up in jail, his memory a blank. A great fear seizes him. What is he locked up for? Murder? A great sigh of relief when he learns that all he did while drunk was get into a brawl without casualties. Chances are, this drunkard—if the drink hasn't entirely destroyed his common sense—will become an abstainer. Again the small trouble prevents him from big trouble later.

After all, maybe it's a good thing that Europe is in hot water, with more troubles than it can handle.

Progress, you know, is born in pain. On the other hand, if Europe could suddenly be restored to normal and its path strewn with roses, the Europeans would say: "Why, shucks! that last war wasn't such a mess to get out of, after all. Come on, let's have another round."

Europe is suffering from cause and effect—from the laws of action and reaction. You can put on shock absorbers. But you cannot entirely eliminate the reaction.

We pay the full price for everything we do in this world and for everything we get out of life. It may not work out that way in some of our activities, but it does on the law of averages.

One man may seem to have the knack of getting money too easily, but somewhere in his life the system is evening things up. Strike an average, and we're all in much the same boat, getting about the same out of life.

Of course, it depends on individual reaction to life, on our sensitiveness for responding to joy or trouble. What may be a tragedy to one person isn't a "hill o' beans" to another. And one of us can get infinite joy from something that would bore others.

Troubles and mistakes are sent to develop our characters, to bring out our hidden powers and to make us appreciate the good things when they come. Everything gets monotonous, when there's no contrast.

Prayer

Daily Lenten Bible reading and meditation prepared for Commission on Evangelism of Federal Council of Churches.

SUNDAY

Teaching in the Home.

"Go to thy house unto thy friends, and tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee." Mark 5:19.

Read Mark 5:1-20. "We cannot afford to forget that our religion was cradled in the home."

MEDITATION: It is both important and difficult to speak of our Christian faith in our own homes. Our words are strengthened or weakened by the lives we live. Can I make my life harmonize with my profession of faith?

HYMN: Dear Lord and Father of mankind.

Forgive our feverish ways; Reclothe us in our rightful mind, In purer lives they service find, In deeper reverence, praise.

PRAYER: O thou God of truth, in this time of confusion, help us to know thy will that we may follow thee. May we not be bound by the traditions of men, but rather seek to know thy truth as thou dost reveal it to us day by day. Give us an open mind to the influence of thy spirit and to the testimony of those whom thy spirit has touched. Strengthen us to be loyal to the truth whatever the cost, and teach us ways where in we may share with others that which thou dost reveal unto us; thru Jesus Christ. Amen.

JOHNSON FUNERAL IS HELD AT MURRAYVILLE

Remains of Mrs. Alden Johnson of White Hall Laid to Rest Saturday Afternoon in Murrayville Cemetery.

The funeral services for the late Mrs. Alden J. Johnson of White Hall were held at 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Murrayville Baptist church. The services were in charge of Rev. Newton Ambrose of Manchester, assisted by Rev. William Gaither of Murrayville.

Music for the solemn occasion was furnished by S. F. Scoy, W. E. Wright, Roy Carlson and T. G. Beadles, with Mrs. Austin King at the piano.

The many and beautiful floral offerings were tenderly cared for by Mrs. I. E. Edwards, Mrs. Lillie Hurst, Mrs. James Meller, Mrs. Ethel Riggs and Miss Emily Boyce.

Burial was made in the Murrayville cemetery, the pall bearers being James Melior, Robert Melior, John Neice, Arthur Thompson, Martin Bradshaw and Roy Anthony.

The death of Mrs. Johnson, wife of a well known Baptist minister, came suddenly at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the family home in White Hall.

She was taken ill Sunday with bronchial pneumonia but had improved Monday, and so great concern was felt about her condition until the fatal turn came while she and her daughter, Mrs. Ella Tickner, a nurse, were the only ones at home.

The deceased was a native of Quincy, her maiden name being Louisa F. Heberling. She was nearing her 65th birthday, which would have occurred April 20th next. It was at Quincy that she and Alden J. Johnson were married in 1876, and for ten years following their marriage they were located on a farm west of Murrayville, and thence farmed at Bowen, Ill., near Keokuk, for the next nine years.

Mr. Johnson was then engaged in the grocery and meat business at Jacksonville until going to White Hall in 1908. There Mr. Johnson entered the ministry of the Baptist church, being a member of the well known family of Johnsons in connection with Baptist history for five generations.

He served various churches over this section of the state, and was highly regarded as a man of sound judgment and large and wholesome views of Christianity.

In this ministry his wife proved to be a devoted and helpful assistant, and the home in White Hall was one of hospitality and there numerous happy marriages have been consummated.

The only daughter, Ella, is quite proficient as a speaker on theology, a fact that contributed little in the congeniality of the family relation. A son, Hiram, is a resident of Jacksonville.

The deceased suffered injury in an automobile wreck while attending the funeral of her only brother, George J. Heberling, at Quincy two years ago, and the effects remained with her. Twin sisters reside at St. Joseph, Mo., and Arvada, Colo., and another sister resides at St. Joseph. She was a member of the First Baptist church of White Hall.

S. J. Duncan-Clarke will speak on "World Outlook from an American Watchtower," at Congregational Church forum at 7:30 tonight.

WILL BROADCAST PHILLIPS PROGRAMS

Local people will be interested in knowing that William P. Phillips, baritone, and Alice Phillips, soprano, are to appear in a joint recital at 2 o'clock each afternoon this week, commencing tomorrow at the Lyon & Healy concert hall in Chicago. These concerts are to be in the Lyon & Healy artists' series and the program of Mr. and Mrs. Phillips will be broadcasted from the concert hall Tuesday and Thursday at 2:35 p. m. The station is KYW.

These artists appeared recently in joint recital at the Hamilton Club of Chicago. They are soon to be soloists with the symphony orchestra of the Chicago theatre under Nathaniel Finston, conductor, at one of the weekly symphony concerts of this famous orchestra. Mr. Phillips has been in great demand this season in oratorio, having sung the "Messiah" eight times in five weeks. He is to appear in May at the great festival at the great festival at Hays, Kansas.

Jacksonville rightly has pride in the very successful musical career of Mr. Phillips, who belongs to a family so long identified with Jacksonville.

FRANKLIN HOME HAS ROOF FIRE
A defective flue set the roof of the home of Mrs. Audrey Beerup of Franklin on fire Friday afternoon. It was about 3 o'clock when the blazing shingles were seen by a man delivering coal at the residence of Newton Woods, next door. He reported the matter to Mr. Beerup who, aided by many neighbors, succeeded in quenching the fire with buckets of water. Quite a large section of shingles was burned away.

SHOWER IS GIVEN FOR FRANKLIN BRIDE-TO-BE

Miss Hattie Scott is Guest of Honor at Pleasant Social After Saturday Afternoon at Home of Mrs. M. B. Keplinger

Mrs. M. B. Keplinger entertained a number of her friends Saturday afternoon at her home in Franklin, the affair being a kitchen utensil shower for Miss Hattie Scott, who is to be a bride in the not distant future.

The guests were members of Mrs. Keplinger's Sunday school class and a few other friends of the guest of honor. During the afternoon there were some pleasing piano selections given by Mrs. Leonard Harris and Miss Anna Wright. Various games and an amusing contest were a part of the afternoon's program, the first prize in the contest being awarded to Miss May Douglass, with Miss Dorothy Mansfield the winner of the consolation prize.

At an appointed hour the guest of honor was led into the dining room and there presented with a large number of very useful kitchen utensils. The serving of a two-course luncheon brought the afternoon to a close.

Miss Scott, who is a daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Scott of Franklin, is to become the bride of Roy Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith who reside west of Franklin. Both young people are well known in the Franklin community and their marriage will be an event of more than ordinary interest in Franklin social circles.

PROBATE COURT
In the probate court approval was given the petition of Gates Strawn as administrator of the estate of Julius E. Strawn, to make a gas and oil lease to G. E. Norton of Bronson, Kans. This relates to certain land in 15-25-21.

A similar order was made by Judge Samuel on the petition of Simon L. Icenogle, guardian of Elmer Icenogle, who has an interest in certain land in 31-16-8. The petition indicates that a lease was about to be made to P. C. Irwin.

The petition of Judge E. P. Brockhouse as conservator of John Cherry for authority to sell the funeral service maintained at the Cherry service station was allowed. By this order the conservator was authorized to make private sale of the property to Ralph Withee.

EASTER HATS MADE BY GIRLS AT DEAF

Thirty two girls in the millinery class at the Illinois School for the deaf are now engaged in making easter bonnets, in preparation for the Fashion show, to be held some time in April or May. The school purchases any sort of hat material needed by the students, who are being instructed by Mrs. W. T. Sully.

The millinery course was placed in the curriculum this year, and already many of the girls have decided to spend four years in the class and fit them selves for positions in established millinery houses. The first hats made in the class were worn home by the makers at Christmas time. Several attractive creations are now on display at the school.

MISS WHITLOCK SLIGHTLY INJURED BY AUTO
Miss Myra Whitlock, a student at the Woman's college, was slightly injured by an automobile late Saturday afternoon. Miss Whitlock, who is a daughter of Everett Whitlock of 1314 South Clay avenue, stepped from a street car when it stopped at the junction of South Main and Superior avenues. As Miss Whitlock started to the Whitlock home, she was struck by a car driven by Joseph McAllister and thrown to the pavement.

Mr. McAllister was not driving rapidly but did not see Miss Whitlock in time to avoid the accident. He stopped the car as quickly as possible and took the young lady to her home.

Dr. C. E. Black was summoned and while Miss Whitlock was badly shaken up and somewhat bruised, it is believed that she sustained no serious injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Reif and son of this city will be the guests of relatives in Springfield today.

the language," continued Mr. Gallivan.

"Why the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. Upshaw) a few months ago, referred to half of the membership of this house as 'drinking run,' declared Mr. Gallivan.

This was denied later by Mr. Upshaw and at the suggestion of the representative, Mr. Gallivan withdrew the language to which Mr. Blanton objected and went on with his address in which he included against the increasing cost of prohibition enforcement. As he concluded, Mr. Gallivan caused a cranning of necks by announcing that he would address the last paragraph of his speech "To the gentleman who sits behind the clock in the gallery, the Hon. Wayne B. Wheeler, of the anti-saloon league, the man who says it is lawless to agitate for the repeal of the Volstead law."

"I say to him that he belongs to the tribe of the Pharaoh whose tomb has just been opened at Luxor after 3,000 years."

Replies by the "drys" were deferred until after Representative Finkham had head into the congressional record a letter from W. D. Foulke of the national Civil Service league, to S. Erickson, Secretary of the Anti-Saloon league, in which the charge was made that the prohibition enforcement service was "corrupted from top to bottom by a set of depraved professionals appointed under the 'spoils system which you promoted."

Mr. Foulke was protesting against a senate bill proposing to place the present prohibition enforcement force under the civil service.

Making the first reply for the "drys," Representative Dickinson Republican, Iowa, declared it was costing the government practically nothing to enforce prohibition because of the fines and penalties collected from violators of the Volstead act.

Representative Crampton followed with additional mention that the Washington newspaper's article to which Mr. Gallivan had referred made no reference to the anti-saloon league directing against members of congress.

Mr. Foulke was protesting against a senate bill proposing to place the present prohibition enforcement force under the civil service.

WOODSON CONSIDERING SCHOOL BUILDING PLANS

A movement is now well under way in Woodson for the erection of a modern school building to replace the structure destroyed by fire a number of weeks since. A meeting was held there recently, when plans for the proposed building were discussed in a tentative way. Among those who spoke at the meeting were County Superintendent of Schools H. H. Vasconcellos, J. K. C. Pearson of this city, and J. E. Cunningham, Elmer Henry, William Colton, Rev. A. E. Powell, and John Baxter of Woodson.

Altho nothing definite has yet been done in the matter, it is generally understood that a three room structure will be decided upon. One of these rooms would be intended for assembly purposes and the other devoted to class work.

It is generally conceded that the new building must be more commodious than the one destroyed by fire, to provide for increase in enrollment.

It is the hope of the school directors at Woodson to have the new building ready for occupancy by the opening of the fall term.

DeSILVA'S BRICK CHILI, WHAT IT IS AND WHERE FOUND

Contrary to the general opinion "Chili" is not at all a cold weather dish. The real name is "Chili Con Carne." It is a native Mexican dish and is eaten regularly, and originated in a country where such a thing as cold weather is unknown. It is not a "hot" dish, is NOT composed of "Hot Pepper," the word "Chili" referring rather to the "Seasoning," faint dashes of Mombassa, Garlic, Star-Anise, Organo, Paprika, Sweet Mountain Mango and Cummin seed. "Con Carne," is simply Spanish for "with meat."

Realizing that many persons would serve chili at home if it were not so difficult to prepare, Mr. DeSilva last winter began experimenting in order to find a way of preserving the chili almost indefinitely. This has been accomplished and DeSilva's Famous Chili can now be obtained in brick form. To be served out of the amount desired, add water and heat. Brick chili if kept in a cool place will retain its flavor and general goodness and nutritious qualities for three months.

DeSilva's Brick Chili can be purchased at the following stores: DOUGLAS GROCERY, North West street; SHOP-AB, West State; WIDMAYER'S MARKET, West State; BERGSCHNEIDER & KUMLE'S, South Main, and SHANAHAN'S GROCERY, East State St.

for office with either of these men."

Miss A. E. Rieman of the Cloverleaf offices is spending the week end visiting with friends in Chicago.

Strawn Talks About Dort

There's economy, also satisfaction, in giving your car the once-over at regular intervals, and once a week is not too often.

While engineering advances and sturdy construction have developed the modern motor car to a point where it will permit of considerable neglect, there is a limit to all things and it will prove costly to cross the dead line on the question of service.

The motorist should consider his car an investment and it is a matter of good business to take care of it the same as he does his other possessions. When an automobile is allowed to run-down-at-the-wheel, the owner finds his repair bills mounting in an alarming manner.

To the average motorist some of the complicated motor cars present an unpleasant task when any service work needs to be done, but the Dort is different. Access-bility of parts was one of the first principles built into the Dort Four and it has been more prominently continued in the new Dort Six so that the owner has more fun than hard work in keeping his Dort fit and ready.

Another feature that every motorist should consider in servicing his car is that the use of so-called "pirate-parts" shortens the life of a car and causes inconvenience and worry. Dort parts are manufactured for all models of Dort cars and under no circumstances should any other parts be used.

Quite a saving can be made and much satisfaction gained from regular inspection on the part of owner and the use of legitimate parts. There is no other short continuous motoring pleasure, and that is what every owner is entitled to, whether his car is used for business or pleasure.

Queen Incubators Built to Hatch Without Trouble

QUEEN Incubators are famous for their large hatches of strong healthy chicks that grow.

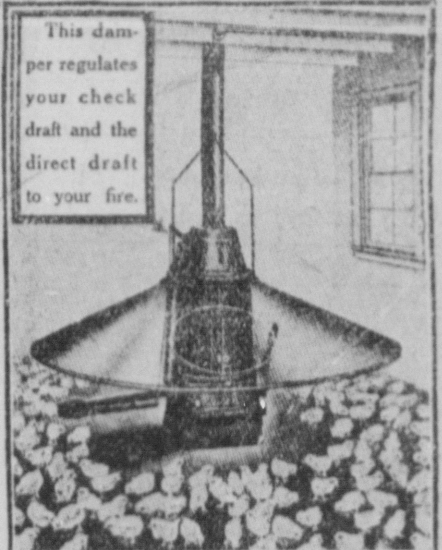

The Queen is accurately regulated, taking care of a temperature variation of 70 degrees without danger. It is built of genuine Redwood—very scarce in these days of imitation and substitution. Redwood does not absorb the odor from hatching eggs. Cheaper woods and paste-board lining in iron and tin machines retain the odors to weaken the hatching chicks.

The Queen has double walls of California Redwood, with insulation between. The Queen hot water system prevents the eggs from drying out and provides ample moisture for the hatching chick. The Queen will come nearer to running itself without any more than ordinary attention than any other incubator made.

Queen Brooders

The Queen Colony Brooder is a new and improved design of brooder stove.

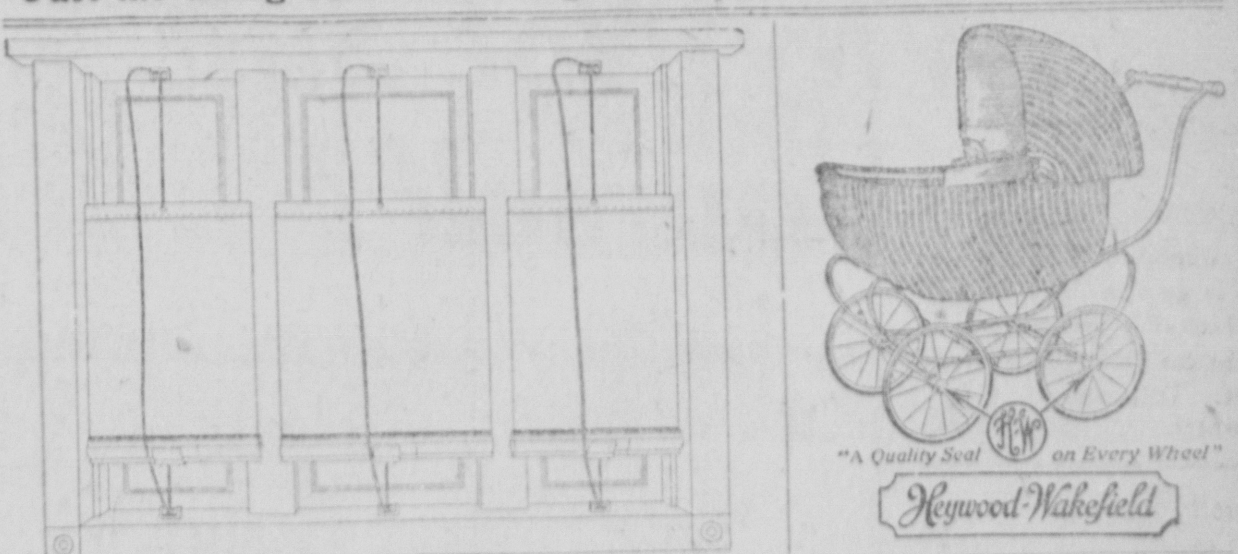

As will be seen from the illustration, the check and draft lids are cast together and operated together. Thus, when the fire is too hot, the water expands and closes the draft and opens the check, both at the same time. When it is too cool, the water contracts and closes the check and opens the draft. This keeps an even heat all the time, night and day, in cold weather or warm, and does it automatically. You don't have to pay any attention to it whatsoever. Just set the regulator for the proper temperature at the start of the season—it will do the rest. The Queen stove burns any kind of fuel with equally satisfactory results.

That "Something" You Either Have or Haven't in Dress

Many a woman is accepted or rejected long before one catches the color of her eyes. Hatted, booted, and gowned in the height of fashion, yet something either is or isn't lacking in the ensemble. Men sense it, but only women will tell you that the missing "something" is—the proper corset.

What a simple thing to achieve those lines of grace—that is, if you know the secret. And the secret is a Modart Corset.

Such a splendid garment is the Modart, so individual in design, so free, so personal in its feeling, that there isn't any corset like a Modart.

Think of the pure joy of possessing such a corset that makes others conscious of the effect, but never reminds you of the fact that you have it on.

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

TRAINING SEASON OF BIG LEAGUES IS SOON TO BEGIN IN SOUTH

Advance Caravans Are Now Headed for the Various Training Camps—By March the Season Will be in Full Swing—Rivalry Promises to Be Keen This Season

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Heralding the approach of spring and another diamond campaign, advance caravans of nearly all of the sixteen major league baseball clubs now are on their way south for the annual conditioning process. Training camps, scattered in lands of the palmetto and cactus from Florida to Catalina Island, Calif., will be in full swing for all of the clubs by the second week of March.

For the veterans, the next six weeks' or so of conditioning and exhibition pastiming will mean shedding excess poundage acquired during the winter lay-off and limbering up for competition with eager and ambitious recruits, hundreds of whom will strive for big league positions for the first time in their careers.

This rivalry for regular berths promises to be especially keen among several clubs going through a marked process of reorganization, including the Cleveland and Boston Americans, and the Brooklyn, Chicago and St. Louis Nationals.

Interest among fans is centered largely in the prospects of the New York Giants and Yankees repeating their triumphs of the past two seasons in the face of increasing strength among several of their more dangerous rivals.

While they are not discounting the opposition they will encounter this year, Managers McGraw of the Giants and Huggins of the Yankees, are confident their teams will keep the National and American League pennants in the same city for the third straight year.

Both pilots declare their teams will be decidedly stronger, although they plan relatively little rebuilding. The Pittsburgh Pirates, in McGraw's opinion, loom as the club the Giants must eliminate to stay at the top of the heap, while the Yankee leader expects his strongest battle from Ty Cobb's Detroit Tigers. Cincinnati, in the National and St. Louis in the American, are picked as the next strongest contenders by the metropolitan club managers.

McGraw has announced that he will stand pat on his 1922 championship line-up, with the possible exception of centerfield, devoting most of his attention to bolstering weaknesses in the pitching staff which nearly cost the club the pennant last season. Jimmy O'Connell, $75,000 "phenom" from San Francisco, is expected to fill the berth in mid-field, but McGraw will give the veteran Casey Stengel, whose come-back was a sensation last year, and Bill Cunningham an opportunity to contest for the job with the coast youngster.

Jack Bentley, another expensive acquisition, is expected to add considerable strength to the pitching corps. Bentley starred both as a portside finger and slugger with the Baltimore Orioles for several years, but his work with the champions will be confined to the mound, according to McGraw. The Giant leader has a dozen or more recruits from whom he hopes to weed out another twirling star. He also looks for decided improvement from his veterans—Hugh McQuillan, Jack Scott, Art Neff and Jess Barnes—besides greater effectiveness from younger moundmen like Bill Ryan, Claude Jonnard and Virgil Barnes.

Pittsburgh's veteran and hard-hitting aggregation, in McGraw's belief, will prove a formidable obstacle, under the leadership of Bill McKechnie, who took the Pirate helm around mid-season last year and developed the club into a dangerous contender in the closing month of the campaign.

Cincinnati, reorganized with a brilliant young infield and good pitching, also figures strangely in McGraw's calculations, while the Chicago Cubs, with a pitching staff above the ordinary, promise to bear watching.

The Tigers, formidable last season, will be much stronger, according to the Yankee view, as a result of the acquisition of Del Pratt, veteran second baseman, and Rip Collins, southpaw twirler, from the Red Sox in exchange for Howard Ehmke, pitcher. Cobb has an unusual array of heavy hitters, flanked by a promising corps of young pitchers—a combination which will be hard to keep from the top.

The St. Louis Browns, unless they are strengthened in several positions, are not rated as high as last year, when they finished just a game behind the Yankees in a thrilling finish, nor as dangerous as the Tigers.

The Chicago White Sox, with a team that developed fast last year and boasted a brilliant string of young pitchers, and Connie Mack's Athletics, who are about due to emerge from the depths, may figure prominently in this season's pennant chase.

Florida is the most popular training ground this year, seven clubs choosing the Everglades state for their conditioning. Texas, Alabama and Arkansas each have two clubs in their confines, while Louisiana, Georgia and California each have one.

The list of 1923 training sites follows:

WHITE SOX GET MINOR PITCHER

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 24.—Frank Woodward star pitcher of the New Haven Eastern league team for two seasons today was sold to the Chicago Americans, according to announcement made tonight. The purchase price was not stated but it was said two Chicago players may figure in the deal.

This is Woodward's third trial in the majors. He played with Philadelphia and St. Louis National league clubs, and also tried out with Washington Americans last spring. Woodward led the Eastern league in the number of games pitched, and also in the total of strike outs last season.

Woodward left for Chicago today, with "Big Ed" Walsh, former pitcher for the White Sox, who was signed a few days ago as assistant to manager Gleason.

The Tigers will line up with the New Berlin American Legion team Tuesday night at the David Prince gym in what is expected to be an exceedingly fast game.

In the early part of the season the Dokays suffered a defeat at the hands of the ex-service men's team from New Berlin and will endeavor to revenge said defeat, Tuesday night.

The Dokays are going strong and will pick their team from the following: Wood, (Capt.); Kennedy, Struck, Jones, Reynolds, Covey, Smith and Lawrence.

The game Tuesday night will be called at 8 p. m. and will be the last home game the Dokays will play prior to their game here with the Petersburg Indians on March 5. Coach Mitchell will officiate.

SCHOOL BOY WINS BARNYARD GOLF TITLE

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 24.—Harold Falor, 15 year old high school boy of Akron, Ohio, today won the world's horseshoe pitching championship, by taking on Frank Jackson, New London, Iowa; Frank Jackson, Kellerton, Iowa, and C. C. Davis, Columbus, Ohio, in the order named, and defeating them for the title and $500 in cash which goes to the first place winner.

To come out on top the knickerbocker youngster had to beat Lundin, who up to that match was the world title holder, and two former champions in Jackson and Davis. He beat Lundin 50-21; Davis 50-18, and Jackson 50-46.

Lundin won second money, $300 in cash, while Davis took third place and $200. Jackson, the other member of the Ohio-Iowa big four, won fourth place and $175. Ralph Spencer, the Oklahoma champion, was in fifth place and E. R. Plowman, of Conroy, Iowa, sixth.

Davis was the first of the three men tied for first place to crack. The break came in his battle with Jackson, who topped him, 50-17, leaving Falor and Lundin in the deadlock. Lundin won the toss and started off with the first tally, a lone point. Falor worked into the lead with a flock of double ringers and held it to the finish, throwing 33 collars and seven doubles. Lundin made 24 ringers and six doubles.

Falor has been pitching horseshoes for a trifle more than two years. When the afternoon pairings were made, Davis and Plowman were the first to enter the arena. Davis won this match 50-11; Lundin and Spencer were then on, the New London cobbler coming out on top 50-17. Davis and Jackson then staged their battle in which the former topped 50-19, throwing 29 ringers and seven doubles. Following the Lundin-Falor battle Davis hoped up with Spencer winning 50-126. The invincible "Hawkeye" then hopped to it with Lundin topping 50-36.

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 24.—Wisconsin defeated Purdue at basketball tonight 20 to 19. Captain Tebell pulled victory out of defeat by shooting two long baskets from the center of the floor during the closing minute of play. The work of Rollie Williams and Tebell, Badger guards, was exceptional. They played both a defensive and offensive game, Tebell's winning basket coming at a time when Wisconsin's forwards were unable to connect with the basket. Holwerder was the Purdue star with two field goals and seven free throws.

JACKSONVILLE HIGH DEFEATS CENTRALIA IN SPEEDY CONTEST

Local Tossers Display Championship Form in Whipping Last Year's State Champions—Mitchell's Men Show Excellent Team Work And Have Eye on Basketball

Jacksonville high, showing championship form, defeated Centralia, last year's state interscholastic champion in David Prince gymnasium Saturday night by a score of 28 to 23.

A capacity crowd witnessed the game which was one of the fastest and most exciting seen on the local floor season. The visitors have one of the speediest five-men here in many months. Their forwards were especially fast. However, the locals matched them with speed and it was their ability to carry this speed that gave them the victory.

Coach Mitchell's squad has not played consistent basketball this season. In one game they would look like winners while in the next game they would show a complete reversal of form and play like they never expected to win a game.

IS DANFORTH'S DELIVERY ILLEGAL?

St. Louis—Dave Danforth will again be a member of the St. Louis pitching staff in the coming campaign, for a time at least.

Dave Danforth is the mystery man of baseball, an eyesore to every American league umpire.

American league umpires credit Danforth with being able to do more tricks with a baseball than Willie Hoppe can do with the ivories. In other words, Danforth is always trying to fool the umpires as well as the batters.

Last year Danforth was suspended for 10 days on complaint of Umpire "Brick" Owens, who caught Dave doctoring the ball, so it is alleged.

The incident not only caused Danforth to be suspended, but drove him to the minors. Sent to Tulsa, in the Western league, he finished in fine style.

Danforth has been brought back to the big show because the Browns need a southpaw. What will be his fate?

Danforth has good speed, always possessed it, and lately has developed a fair curve, and a good slow ball. He really has enough stuff to get by on without resorting to trickery, but Dave at times can't see it that way.

Last season he pitched a number of games in which the umpires gave him a clean bill of health, but he was unable to stand prosperity and soon went back to his old ways.

RICKEY IS AGAINST ZONING OF HOME RUNS

St. Louis—Brach Rickey manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, is dead set against any plan that will curb home run hitting.

President Johnson of the American league, Clarke Griffith of the Washington club, and many other big men of the game, believe the home run has become so cheapened that it has lost its zip.

Rickey doesn't agree with them. He says the fans, by their attendance, have proved they like free hitting games featured with home runs.

The St. Louis leader says that every club in both major leagues made plenty of money in the last two years. This, he claims, is without precedent in major league affairs.

With the game showing such popularity and prosperity, Rickey cannot figure why it should be checked by eliminating or making more difficult the one thing that has popularized the sport—home runs.

"The fans seldom make comparisons of the fielding ability of rival players," says Rickey, "it is always the hitting."

"Last season, fans the country over were wildly excited over the home run race in the majors, as to whether Ruth would be displaced or overcome the handicap of a late start."

"You never heard the fans do any raving about fielding averages."

"Leave well enough alone, is my attitude on the home run question."

TYGER'S SLUGGER FAST BECOMING HANDBALL EXPERT

HARRY HEILMANN.

Harry Heilmann, hard hitting right fielder of the Detroit Tigers and American league batting champion in 1921, aspires to a new honor. The big Californian is now seeking the national handball title. And Harry's in earnest, too.

One of the oldtime handballers recently paid Heilmann a nice compliment after watching the Tiger in action. "Keep your eyes on that big fellow in national matches of the future," he said. "He is playing a wonderful game, and can stack up right now with the best men in the country." And coming from a veteran of the sport, that's praise aplenty.

It is a fact that with the increase of red-cells in your blood, impurities are destroyed. It is a fact that S. S. S. builds red-blood-cells and serves to destroy impurities which cause pimples, boils, eczema and rheumatic trouble! It is a fact that S. S. S. is one of the most remarkable nerve-power builders ever produced to build up fagged-out, run-down men and women. It is a fact that S. S. S. sharpens the appetite, puts the "pink of the rose" in the cheeks, gives energy, and helps to make flesh firm! It is a glorious fact that S. S. S. has given new, long-forgotten strength to older people and has made many old and young people look years younger. Blood is life—it is your foundation. Make it rich. Get blood-strength. We all need it, especially rheumatics. Begin taking S. S. S. right away today. It will prove itself. S. S. J. M. Mar, Los Angeles, Calif., writes: "Overwork occasioned a complaint which consisted of a tired feeling and pains in the back that finally exhausted all my strength. I had recourse to doctors, who could do nothing beneficial, notwithstanding I turned over to them a large part of my capital. A friend advised me to take S. S. BRADY SAYS HE WAS "DOUBLE CROSSED"

Alleged Robber of Easton Bank Says He Didn't Get any of the Money—Believes He Was Doped.

James Brady one of the alleged bandits that blew the safe of the Easton, Ill., bank, early Monday morning was a holdover prisoner at the city prison Saturday morning. Brady arrived in the city in custody of Sheriff Close of Mason county on the Chicago & Alton Hummer from Kansas City, where he is alleged to have been arrested on a charge of drunkenness.

In conversation with a journal reporter Brady said that the gang that "pulled" the Easton job was organized in Peoria. He would not give the names of his accomplices. He said that the men went to Easton in a stolen automobile and that he was the lookout man, the other three men going into the bank. Three charges were used to blow the vault and safe. He said that one charge failed to work properly.

After the robbery the men made their getaway in the stolen car and went toward San Jose, Ill. They left the car at a point about a mile from San Jose and caught a Chicago & Alton fast freight train coming thru Jacksonville about daylight. He said he and his "pals" were in the ice box of a refrigerator car.

Arriving at Kansas City, Brady said that three of the men went to a room and that they started drinking. The money was to have been divided when they sobered up. Brady thinks that his pals doped him for when he recovered from the effects of liquor his "pals" had gone and took part of his clothing with them. Brady says that he was "double crossed" and that he received none of the money. He said that the men obtained about $5,000 for their efforts.

Brady was a parole prisoner from the Chester penitentiary and had served 10 months of a five year sentence. Brady said that he had learned a lesson and that he intended to go "straight" from now on. He is a young man about 35 years of age a native of Mason City, Ill. He comes from a prominent family and is well known in Mason City.

Brady was taken to Havana on the early morning C. P. & St. L. train Saturday by Sheriff Close.

D. A. R. MEETING WAS OF UNUSUAL INTEREST

Rev. James Caldwell Chapter Members Heard Address by State Recording Secretary—Splendid Musical Program Rendered

The February meeting of the Rev. James Caldwell chapter D. A. R. was one of unusual interest, a very attractive program having been prepared by the program committee.

The guest of honor was Mrs. Nevin Lescher of Galesburg, Ill., who is the recording secretary for the state conference of the D. A. R.

The program of the afternoon was opened by a group of songs given by Mrs. Barr Brown in response to the unanimous request of the past regents. Mrs. Brown sang "The Time for Making Songs has Come," and "Homing." Miss Catherine Wilson acted as her accompanist.

Miss Christine Cotner of the Illinois Woman's college next gave a group of violin numbers with great feeling and expression. She played "Melodie" by Gluck-Kreisler and "Obertass" by Wienawski. In response to a hearty encore Miss Cotner played "A Minuet" by David Hochstein. Miss Luke of the Woman's college acted as Miss Cotner's accompanist.

Mrs. Lescher in her address spoke of former visits to Jacksonville and friendships made here. She referred to the work of the national organization in Americanization and recreational work done at Ellis Island, both in response to the request of the U. S. government.

In state work Mrs. Lescher spoke of the marking of the Lincoln circuit and of the old national trail. The project to purchase the mounds at Cahokia is now in the shape of a bill before the legislature, and the daughters are asked to urge their representatives to support this bill.

The chapter on the motion of Mrs. David Reid moved to have a committee appointed to forward the purchase of these historical mounds.

During the delightful social hour which followed the program the past regents acted as hostesses, with Mrs. Edith Wilson as chairman. Out of town guests were Mrs. W. H. Hinrichsen and Miss Anne Hinrichsen of Alexander.

YOUNG PEOPLE TO HOLD CONFERENCES

Boys and Girls of Sunday Schools to Have Conferences in April.

D. H. Wing, young people's superintendent of the Illinois Sunday school association, has set the dates of the Morgan county older boys and girls conference for Saturday and Sunday, April 14 and 15. These dates do not conflict with any plans of the local high school, and they will perhaps be the ones selected by the young people in a meeting at 4:15 in the Christian church Sunday afternoon.

Harry Walker, chairman of the program committee, has been interviewing all the city superintendents this week, getting each one to appoint one boy and one girl of high school or college to represent their school at the meeting on February 25. At this meeting Miss Virginia Cummings and Melchi Hart, who were at the state conference in Galesburg, January 1, will outline the plans to be carried out for Sunday, March 4, when these appointed young people will visit the city Sunday schools to receive their interest of the county conference and to urge every class of young people whose ages range from 14 to 24 years to appoint one of their representatives to meet at the Christian church, Sunday, March 4, at 4 p. m.

At the meeting on March 4, plans will be presented whereby the young people of the Jacksonville Sunday schools will organize to visit Waverly, Franklin, Murrayville, Meredosa, and other communities of the county in the interest of the county conference. At the rallies the plans, program speakers, etc., of the conference will be given in detail and every Sunday school class in the county will be urged to send representatives.

The high school class of the Christian Sunday school will serve lunch to those present on March 4, which will be served in ample time to allow those from other churches to be on time at the evening young peoples services at their own church.

These plans are being arranged by the young people themselves, and they are anxious to have the co-operation of every young peoples' class in Jacksonville.

The officers in charge are Miss Virginia Cummings, president; Clarence Wilson, secretary; Harry Walker, chairman program committee. Other officers and committees will be selected this afternoon.

COLLEGE OF MUSIC NOTES

Elizabeth Hombrough gave a short program of piano solos at a meeting of the women of Grace church held on Friday at the home of Mrs. Vollrath.

Gwendolynne Schroyer, Velma Kitchell and Geneva Coleman gave vocal and piano numbers at a recent meeting of the Parent-Teacher association at Franklin school.

Marie Luke and Gwendolynne Schroyer were soloists at the special service held last Sunday in the Presbyterian church of Woodson.

The members of the children's classes who were eligible for the party on Saturday afternoon numbered nearly forty. Games were played in two groups under the leadership of the teachers in the children's department, and delicious refreshments were enjoyed by all. The guests were as follows: Anabelle Scott, Marilla Bussey, Dorothy Richards, Helen Wright, Emma Louise Corbridge, Ellen Coudin, Dorothy Jane Scott and Anna Margaret Vanier, all of whom had a perfect record of attendance with no absences whatever. Pauline Galley, Ada Galley, Elizabeth Hardesty, Frances Hardesty, Mildred Johnson, Rhoda Olds, Wilma Range, Mary Frances Scott, Patricia Smith, Mildred Turner, Araminta Wyatt, Leanna Clemens, Marion Wilson, Frances Kaule, Ernestine Schoedsack, Edna Bussey, Bernice York, Roberta Weirich, Clarence Turner, Martha Smith, Kathryn Filson, Mary Fitzgerald, Dorothy Kent, Mildred Rose, Wilhelmina Smith, Jeanette Petter, Willa Wiseman, Noraline Rentscher, and Charlotte Virginia Cade, all of whom had but one or two absences which were excused on account of sickness or other unavoidable causes.

The public is cordially invited to attend the song recital given Monday evening by Clarence Radcliffe, pupil of Mme. Colard, assisted by Christine Cotner, pupil of Miss Horschbrugh.

Mrs. Martin was accompanist at the Father and Sons Banquet held at Grace church on February 16.

Miss Florence Kirby gives us the following interesting information: "No musician before the public today represents so much what can be accomplished by will power, determination and pure grit as does Fannie Bloomfield Ziesler, America's great woman pianist. It was not so much the possession of talent as the exercising of the qualities mentioned that made her what he is today. She was not greatly encouraged by her teachers in her student days. She overcame her seeming lack of a natural sense of rhythm by studying aesthetic dancing for three years. She now plays with a most stunning rhythm and has no superior in this respect. Her unusual memory which also had to be acquired was demonstrated two years ago when she played three of the biggest piano concertos with the Chicago orchestra in one concert."

WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES

Miss Elizabeth Graybeal, who has recently taken up her work in Physical Education, is proving the right person in the right place. Her work shows the splendid training that she has had as well as the ability in teaching which comes thru ample experience.

The Washington birthday party was a brilliant success in every way. One of the delightful features of the evening was the pantomime, Blue Beard, which was acted out by several members of the faculty. As is the case in enjoyed seeing some of the staid members of the faculty lay aside their dignity and enter into the activities as if they were students.

Dean Austin has been confined to her room on account of the prevailing epidemic, but is now able to be part of the time and hopes soon to take full charge of her work.

Miss Lelia Reese of the office is late ill at her home with an attack of the flu.

Miss Harriet Whitmer, assistant in the Biology Department, has returned to her classes after several weeks' illness.

Frances Brown read at the Fathers' and Sons' banquet at Grace church last Friday night, and she is to read for the Chamber of Commerce Monday evening.

Ethel Morris, Charlotte Rodgers, Donnell Keys and Martha Logan gave two short sketches or the Washington birthday program at the David Prince school. They were greatly appreciated by the boys and girls who expressed their approval in no uncertain manner.

What Does It Mean To 'Have Your Block Ground'

—After the reground shaft has been relaid in main bearings the connecting rod bearings are fitted to the crank pins.
—The accuracy of these two bearing operations determine the endurance the motor will have. The connecting rods with pistons assembled must now be lined up.
—This requires a jig tool so constructed that when a mandrel is clamped in the crank pin bearing the piston can be brought up to a face plate exactly at right angles to center of mandrel. This is very important and upon its accuracy depends the durability of the entire engine job.
To make a long story short—

A block grinding job means—A remanufactured motor. This work cannot be successfully undertaken by amateurs with no machine tool equipment or previous experience.

EDUCATIONAL NOTES

College women live longer than other women, according to a study made by Myra M. Hulst of the American Red Cross and published in the Quarterly Publication of the American Statistical Association.

Among 15,561 graduates of three women's colleges, the death rate between the ages of 20 and 64 years, was only 3.24 per 1,000. For college women between 25 and 34 years the death rate was 2.7 per 1,000, while for women in the general population it was more than twice as high, namely, 6.19 per 1,000.

It was also found that professional occupations such as college women usually engage in, have fewer risks than the industrial and other occupations of the non-college women. Fifty eight per cent of the college graduates in these three colleges studied, we engaged in teaching.

"School Life," published by the United States Bureau of Education makes the following comment on these figures: "Such favorable figures for college graduates are not surprising when it is considered that as a rule, only the physically fit continue thru the four years to graduation. Physical and medical examinations given to all students bring to light remediable defects and lead to improvement. Favorable living conditions, such as college women are likely to encounter, prescribed physical exercise and general physical education add to the high level of health."

Dr. Heber Reese Harper was inaugurated Chancellor of the University on Friday February 16 in the Municipal Auditorium of Denver before a large audience composed of students, alumni, faculty and friends of the institution. William G. Evans, president of the board of trustees presided. After the formal charge, delivered by Bishop Charles L. Mead, Governor William E. Sweet made an address, to which the Chancellor-elect responded.

Dr. Harper is the fourth chancellor of the university. His predecessors were the late Bishop David H. Moore, who served from 1880 to 1889; Bishop William Fraser McDowell, 1890 to 1899 and Dr. Henry A. Buchtel, whose term extended from 1900 to 1921. Dr. Harper can probably claim the distinction of being the youngest man to hold this post. He is but thirty-seven years of age, and is an Englishman by birth. During the war he served abroad with the Y. M. C. A., and devoted much of his talent to the study of ways to give enlisted men a chance after the war was over.

ODE TO A CHILD.

The following lines recently appeared in the Washington Park (Chicago) Blue Book, written to Shirley Jane German, little daughter of Fred W. and Lola Smith German, former residents of this city. Mrs. German is a daughter of Mrs. J. T. Smith of 1007 North Fayette street. The pretty ode was written by E. J. Burgess who teaches the Sunday school class of which Mr. German is a member.

Of all the cutest things I've seen,
There's one sweet little girlie—
Of my fond heart she is the queen
That darling babe is Shirley.

My little love has eyes so bright,
And teeth so white and pearly.
She is the phantom of delight,
My smiling little Shirley.

Her hair it is a glorious crown,
So lively and so curly.
Her smile would banish any frown,
My winsome little Shirley.

So fair thou art, my bonnie lass,
As sweet as morning early.
As purest dew upon the grass
Is this maiden Shirley.

There is a garden in her face,
Where roses bloom quite early,
A heavenly Paradise the place
Where lives my darling Shirley.

Where you are near no evil is,
No tempter sour or surly,
You smile drives every cloud away,
O blessed Sunshine Shirley!

And when you are a woman grown,
Some good man, big and burly,
Will seek to claim you for his own,
You witching little Shirley!

Other allowable contributions are those made to any corporation or community chest, fund, or foundation operated and organized exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes, including posts of the American Legion of women's auxiliary units of such posts, or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals, no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private stockholder or individual; also to the special fund for vocational rehabilitation. Such contributions are allowed to an extent not in excess of 15 per cent of the taxpayer's net income, computed without the benefit of this deduction.

Gifts made directly to an individual are not deductible, but if made to an organization of the kind described may be deducted even though the organization distributes its funds among individual beneficiaries.

Mr. Geo. T. Lukeman, local Ford dealer who has just returned home from St. Louis where he attended the Automobile Show, is most enthusiastic over the Lincoln and Ford car exhibits there.

"The Lincoln car display of the Ford Motor Company was most attractive and held the attention of every one interested in quality cars," he said. "The Lincoln cars show remarkable advances in the construction of fine motor car body work and are distinguished by superior finish. Mechanically the cars show a number of refinements and a new conception in finish of the working parts of the motor itself. All developments in the Lincoln tend toward the ultimate perfection in automobile design and construction."

"New improvements in the Ford cars, both open and enclosed models, are attracting much favorable attention and many comments are heard regarding the finish which is on a very high quality aspect. The new slanting windshield on the open models is most popular and persons interested in the enclosed types remark upon the excellence of the fabrics used in the upholstery and also upon the window lowering devices which are of the same general nature as those used in the higher priced automobiles. The high excellence of the Ford performance is, of course, universally recognized."

"Reports coming in at the St. Louis Branch show rather surprising sales of Ford cars and indications are that a shortage will come by early spring."

"The production schedule set for the Ford Motor Company's plant at Detroit for 1923 is 6,000 cars a day, but this schedule will not be reached until about April 1st."

"Sales now are running more than 100,000 a month, and have been since last April, in fact, and at present absorption is about neck and neck with production."

FORTY YEARS IN THE COLLEGES OF ILLINOIS

By J. R. Harker

Longfellow's Potter sings in Keramos: Turn, turn, my wheel! All things must change, To something new, to something strange; Nothing that is can pause or stay."

For centuries the colleges and universities of every country seemed to be nearly a sole exception to this universal law. The colleges in the middle of the nineteenth century did not vary greatly in spirit, in curriculum, and in methods of administration from the colleges of one hundred and even two hundred years before. But in the last half of the nineteenth century the world spirit of change and reform and unlimited experiment forced an entrance into even the impregnable fastnesses of higher learning. It is probably true that a greater change has taken place, more radical reforms have been adopted, in the last forty years of college history than in the one hundred or even two hundred years preceding.

It has been my good fortune to be a member of a college faculty during this period of change, and to be more or less intimately associated with the colleges of Illinois for that time, and while I cannot in any adequate way attempt to show the higher educational history of Illinois for these forty years, it may be both interesting and profitable to suggest a few of the changes that have taken place.

1. The changes in the colleges themselves.

The commissioner of education in his report for 1883-84, lists 29 colleges and universities in Illinois. Of these ten are not now operating as colleges: Abingdon, Almira, Chaddock, Chicago Female, Ewing, German and English at Galena, Hedding, Irvington, Northern Illinois at Fulton, and Westfield. Blackburn university has become a junior college. The federation of Illinois colleges, which we here represent, has twenty-six colleges on its list.

only eighteen of which were listed as colleges forty years ago. Eight of the twenty-six have been founded since 1883.

Of all the Illinois college presidents listed in the report of 1883-84, only one remains as the active head of his college today—President Charles A. Blanchard, of Wheaton college. I greatly wished that President Blanchard might be with us at this meeting so that we could have personally shown him the honor and appreciation which so long and distinguished an educational record merits. I suggest that the president of the federation send a message to President Blanchard expressing our regret that he cannot be here, and our appreciation of his long and distinguished service in higher education in the state.

2. Changes in the curricula.

In 1883-84 the curricula of the colleges still followed very closely the traditional courses of study of a century before. The average faculty of the colleges of Illinois consisted of 6 or 7 men; it was a rare sight to find a woman on a college faculty at that time. The curriculum was from one-half to two-thirds made up of philosophy, mental science, and ethics, taught by the president, and mathematics, Latin and Greek. One professor taught all the sciences, described as "Natural Science" and in some of the colleges this man also taught German. There were practically no laboratories, the professor had a few illustrative specimens on shelves back of his desk. One man took care of "logic, rhetoric, English literature and history," and while it was more than a "chair" it could not be called a lounge. I well remember interesting discussions in the faculty meetings on the advisability of giving a larger place to English, and history, and of introducing the branches of science and the laboratory, and finding a place for "modern languages." But it was the general consensus of faculty opinion that these new subjects did not offer anything like equal opportunity for culture and mental discipline that the traditional subjects offered, and so they fought their way in very slowly.

Compare this curriculum and faculty with those of today, and we see how complete has been the victory of the new subjects. Greek has been almost entirely eliminated. Latin has lost its pre-eminence, and modern languages, including French, and Spanish and German, now occupy a large place. The then despised English now holds first rank; and history, with its outreaches in economic, sociology, and so on, now almost makes a college in itself.

English and history now require from three to five teachers even in a small college; the sciences and the laboratories now demand as large a faculty and more buildings and equipment than the entire college forty years ago; and several subjects besides are considered essential to a college curriculum that were not heard of forty years ago. A college faculty of from five to seven members, forty years ago, seemed adequate for the instruction of both college and secondary classes. Now it requires, even in a small college from fifteen to twenty teachers for the college classes alone, mainly because of the extension of the curriculum.

3. Changes in the relation of secondary and college attendance. Forty years ago college students were comparatively few in number, they were greatly outnumbered by the students of academy grade. Besides the twenty-nine colleges and universities listed in the report of 1883-84, there were many private schools listed as academies and seminaries. All the colleges had preparatory departments, or academies, with a much larger enrollment than in the colleges classes. The report of the commissioner of education shows less than 2,000 college students enrolled in all the colleges of Illinois that year, and nearly 3,000 preparatory students. We see still better what this means when we remember that the door into enrollment as college students was not closely guarded then as now.

Compare the enrollment of 2,000 college students with the present enrollment of more than 30,000 in Illinois, and we see the really marvelous advance of higher education in these forty years.

The largest factor in this advance has been the rapid development of the public high school, but it is not possible to enter on this subject here. In 1883-84 there were only 150 high schools and only sixty of them four year schools. They enrolled about 11,000 students. Now there are probably 900 high schools, with a possible enrollment of 150,000. And they have largely increased in efficiency. Forty years ago the colleges were obliged to maintain preparatory departments, in order to prepare students for college work. Now the colleges secure their students almost wholly from the high schools, and find it both unnecessary and unprofitable to maintain academies as before. The development of the high school has also resulted in the abandonment of many of the private academies which flourished in the earlier history of education in Illinois. Only a few of these still survive, and these few have been compelled to advance to junior college rank in order to meet the rapidly changing conditions.

Another large factor in this advance has been the remarkable development of the three great universities in Illinois, Northwestern university, the State university at Urbana, and Chicago university. In 1883-84 Northwestern university reported only 532 students, both college and preparatory. The state university, then called the Illinois industrial university, reported a total of about 400; and the Chicago university had not yet been founded. It was founded in 1892, nine years later. Since 1900 these universities have increased their attendance by leaps and bounds, so that their combined attendance is possibly now not far from 20,000. The other colleges made comparatively little increase until since 1913 or 1914; in fact, it is probably true that the more than twenty smaller colleges, while the number of preparatory students had decreased and of college students had increased, the total enrollment of all these small colleges was not greater in 1912 than in 1883-84, if indeed it was as great. For thirty years the increase seemed to gather solely in the universities. In the last ten years, and particularly in the last five years, the tide has been flowing also toward the smaller colleges, and nearly all of them are now crowded up to and even beyond their capacity.

On the subject of the rapid increase of students at the State university, I recall an interesting conversation I had about nine years ago with Dr. Edmund J. James, then president of the University. I was a guest at his home with several other college men, including ex-president, Elliott of Harvard. I said to President James: "The first time I was on this university campus was in the seventies, and there were then fewer than 400 students. Now you have something more than 4,000. Do you think it will continue to increase until it reaches 40,000?" He thought for a moment, and then said, "Well, I have never thought as far ahead as that. But I can see nothing to prevent it in time. The causes of our continually increasing attendance are increasing population, increasing wealth, and increasing interest in education, and these causes will continue to operate for a long time yet." After a pause, he added, "But I am beginning to think that we have already reached the limits both of economy in administration, and of efficiency in service."

Since that conversation the university has increased from 4,000 to more than 9,000, and still continues to increase every year. This is now coming to be true of all our colleges, even the smallest; and it would seem that one of the most important and pressing problems before colleges today is that very question of when a college reaches its highest condition of economy and efficiency, both for itself and for its students.

4. It is interesting to note the changes in current costs of college attendance and administration.

The charges for tuition and incidental fees in 1883-84 were from $10 in some of the colleges to the high figure of $50 in one or two. The average fee was about $30. When I entered Illinois college in 1883-84 the charge for tuition and additional in the academy was $18 for the year. There was much opposition to my suggestion to advance the rate to $56. It was finally agreed to for 1884-85, and it was a great surprise to everybody to note that with the increase in the tuition rate there was actually an increase in the attendance, instead of a decrease, as most of the faculty feared.

The report of the superintendent of public instruction in Illinois for 1883-84 shows the total receipts and expenses of the colleges listed that year. To sense the situation fully it must be remembered that the figures given include the cost of both college and academy. Several of the colleges report a budget of total expense of as low as $4,000 and $5,000 for salaries of all teachers and officers. One college reported $10,800, two $15,000, and one $21,000. The average is below $10,000. The total expenses, including everything, ran from $5,500 to $25,888 and averaged less than $11,000. It seems incredible, that so much really good educational work could have been accomplished at so small a cost.

5. Equally surprising is the report of the total property and endowments of the colleges forty years ago. They had little property and less endowment. Several of them report total property, including campus, buildings and equipment, of as low as $60,000, while only four reported as high as $200,000, and only one had a property valued at a million or more. The total property value of the twenty-nine colleges and universities was only $25,000,000, an average of little over $80,000, and the total endowment was less than $1,500,000, an average of less than $50,000.

As a general summary, we may say that in these forty years, high school attendance has increased about fourteen fold; college attendance about the same; tuition rates and fees have increased from six to eight fold. The annual expense of college maintenance, including administration, salaries of teachers, and general upkeep, is now eight to ten times as great as it was then, and the total college property and endowment holdings of the colleges and universities of the state not including the state university, is now at least fifteen times as large as it was in 1883-84.

This is indeed an astonishing showing. But great as the advance has been, it is safe to predict that the next twenty or even ten years will show as great advance in college interest and attendance as the last forty years have shown. The advance in these forty years has been with constantly increasing acceleration, quite slow at first, very rapid in the last ten years. We are now in what is veritably a great educational revival. Students are seeking admission to colleges for larger plant, better equipment, and greater endowment is very urgent. College presidents are sorely pressed now to find the means to keep their colleges up to the imperative demand for betterment and enlargement. It is easy to see from the showing here made of advance in every direction that a million dollars and more is needed now where $100,000 was sufficient forty years ago. But the encouragement is, that men and women are seeing now, more clearly than ever before, that no investment yields better returns than investment in the education of children and youth. In every community and in the state the citizens are investing more generously and willingly for public education; and, similarly, men and women are more generously and freely giving to Christian colleges to make and keep them correspondingly efficient. There is every reason to feel greatly hopeful, and to believe that the immediate future holds for the colleges still greater advance than the past has been seen. We congratulate and almost envy the men and women who as college presidents and faculties will be privileged to lead in such advance.

UNEXPECTED UPTURNS LIFTS WHEAT MARKET

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—Unexpected upturns in Liverpool quotations lifted the wheat market here a bit higher most of the day today, but selling enlarged late last and the finish was unsettled at 1c not decline to 1c, with May $1.17 1/2 to $1.17 1/4 and July $1.14 1/4. Corn closed 1/2c to 1c down, oats off 1/2c to 1/4c and provisions at a set back of 2 to 10c.

Some foreign buying of futures deliveries of wheat here tended for a while to emphasize the upward slant of values, and so likewise did more or less uneasiness shown regarding the crop outlook for domestic winter wheat. In addition there was considerable talk to the effect that current prices had discounted everything bearish in sight. Continued mild weather in prospect and it was noticeable that from the outset the action of corn and oats had been less in harmony with wheat than is usually the case.

It became evident near the close that some principal holders of corn and oats were selling out freely, and this circumstance had a reflex influence on the wheat market. The main reason given for letting go of the feed grains was that larger receipts of corn here were expected next week. A late additional bearish factor as the wheat was announced that primary arrivals of wheat this week were in excess both of last week's total and of the figures a year ago as well. Weakness of corn and oats started from persistent selling on the part of leading longs in the oats trade. The corn market was bearishly affected besides by indications that warmer and Argentine crop developments had curtailed to a material extent the speculative demand for corn.

Provisions reflected the weakness of wheat values.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Readjustment of the technical structure of the stock market after three weeks of steadily rises resulted in lower quotations in today's early dealings particularly among industrial shares but good buying support was forthcoming just above yesterday's low levels and prices were working upward again before the close.

Announcement of the interstate commerce commission's approval of the proposed Louisville & Nashville stock dividend checked the decline that stock jumping four points to 154 1/2, a new high record for the year and nearly 25 points above the year's low. Atlantic Coast Line which owns approximately 50 per cent of the Louisville & Nashville stock jumped 3 points to 125, also a new top price. Some of the other dividend paying rails improved in sympathy.

United States Steel common indulged in a momentary display of strength getting above 108, but it closed unchanged at 107 1/2. Other popular industrial shares as Studebaker, Baldwin, Anaconda, Copper, Crucible and Gulf States Steels all closed below last night's final quotations the net losses ranging from small fractions to nearly two points.

Maxwell Motors was one of the few outstanding strong spots in the industrial list touching 51 and closing at 50 1/2, where it was up 2 1/2 points on the day.

Foreign exchanges were reactionary demand sterling dropping near three fourths of a cent to $4.70 9/16 and French francs yielding 2 points to 6.05 cents. Slight recessions also were noted in all the other European rates. The weekly clearing house statement showed increases of $34,742,000 in loans, discounts and investments and $21,856,000 in time deposits, but reserve of member banks in the federal reserve bank decreased $38,232,000 and net demand deposits dropped $9,484,000. Aggregate reserve totalled only $511,181,000 making a deficit in reserve of $17,627,850 as against excess reserve of $19,382,050 the week before.

Some of the U. S. Government bonds, notably Liberty 3 1/2s and New 4 1/2s recorded small net gains losses in the range from 2 to 10c on $100.

Acceptance of U. S. Government bonds at par in the payment of principal and interest on the British war debt is expected to have a stabilizing influence on this group.

Produce Market Review

Testing of dairy cows to determine whether they are paying their board is shown to be of value in results of the Iowa cow testing associations. Three common cows representing the kind of animals that are found on the ordinary farm costs their owners an average of $1.13 for feed for every hundred pounds of milk produced. Good grade cows produced hundred pounds of milk at an average feed cost of 53 cents.

In estimating the average feed cost per cow, it was found that common cows cost on the average $51.30 per year while high-grade Holsteins cost $53.15. The poorest of the grade Holsteins used in the test produced almost twice as much milk as the best common cow. The common cows used in this comparison were better than the average Iowa cow which produced 2,709 pounds of milk in 1920.

Other tests conducted by the Iowa experiment station give proof as to the value of pure-bred sires in bringing about increased economy in production of dairy products.

Colder weather thruout the western producing territory caused some decrease as well as delay in cream deliveries and a consequent lighter make of butter. The markets seem to be pretty well cleaned up at the close of the week, with fair demand noted from consuming trade. Dealers however, are a little nervous about the future trend of the market.

Egg receipts have not been heavy, but is generally fine and demand consuming trade continues to clear stocks as fast as they are received, due to the condition noted.

Too large a supply of live poultry in New York resulted in lower quotations there and a general reduction in paying prices thruout the producing sections. It is evident that there is a very liberal supply of poultry back on the farms still to be marketed, and that until this surplus is disposed of, by either marketing or home consumption, prices will remain normal.

TELLS STORY OF THE DESTRUCTION OF COL DI LANA MOUNTAIN

(Continued from Page 9.) last time in the raise and connected the electric wires. At 11 p. m. garrison was withdrawn into the several galleries. The last sentries were retired shortly afterward. Our trenches remained for a moment completely deserted. Bonfatti, Grimaldi and I and another officer were seated at the entrance of a gallery, 300 feet from the center of the mine at 11:30 we received orders and pulled the strings of the detonators.

"There was a dull noise, a slight tremor, I thought the mine had failed and rushed to the nearby entrance illuminated by the white glare of the moon when suddenly all became dark. A cataclysm of earth and rock fell. When the stones stopped falling I crawled out of the half obstructed entrance. The snow cap of Col di Lana had become black. Everything was silent deserted dead.

"Our soldiers crawled out of the galleries, walked quietly up to the peak and occupied the huge crater Col di Lana was our.

"Toward the north side of the peak on the enemy's side where the fire was hottest an Austrian half buried at the entrance of a gallery called for help and mercy. "A young Sicilian infantry corporal made up his mind to save him and with a few men crossed the fire zone and started to work. The enemy saw them enter the mouth of the tunnelling and attempted to bottle them by bombing. The men stuck to their job however, and for three days worked under constant danger until they rescued the enemy."

Europe Thru The Eyes Of Mrs. Lambert

Mrs. Belle Short Lambert who is making an extended stay in Europe recently sent the following very interesting letter to Dr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Harker.

From a mountain top in Arizona recently there came to us a call: "Where is my wondering ma tonight?"

Meditating on this inquiry, thought of another place dear to me suggested that a similar query might arise, "where lingers so long our absent trustee?"

Regretful of protracted separation from our beloved college and its activities, in which thru many years it has been our happiness to share some little part, we are prompted to give a brief account of our whereabouts during the past year.

Last winter was spent Tucson, a lovely city on the margin of the desert in that picturesque territory, in the southwestern corner of the United States.

Mountains reflecting the transparent rich color of amethysts, surround the city at varying distances; rugged canons echoed the organ music of tumbling, rushing waters, while cloudless skies radiated a genial warmth.

An incident of peculiar interest was the annual religious festival of the Yaqui Indians. This was held during the Easter week in their temporary encampment out in the desert. It was a continuous drama, in which the symbols and traditions of the ancient Yaqui tribes were combined with those of the Christian faith.

Small unpainted crosses were numerous lining wide paths thru which dancing men and women with many gestures, and a reverent grace as they occasionally dropped on one knee, sometimes on both knees. The costumes and accompanying music gave the strange spectacle a weird aspect, as the women and children of the tribe bedecked with all their ornaments stood silent observers of the ceremony.

Last June my daughter, Mrs. Clifford, and her two younger children, we crossed the sea. An impulse of patriotism prompted us to make the voyage in a steamer of the United States line, the President Polk. It proved a wise selection, for so steadily did the good ship ride the waves that mal-de-mer did not touch our little party, and almost no others.

Disembarking in London we at once proceeded to see and enjoy all that the great city so generously offers. The art galleries, museums, Westminster Abbey and other churches, the tower, parks, gardens and historic localities filled many days with delight. One day we went to Windsor and had the good fortune to be taken thru the state apartments of the castle, where Queen Victoria so long had her favorite residence.

The throne room is a place of brilliant splendor; the hall of the Knights of the Garter, is majestic in construction, and resplendent with the silken banners and the coat of arms of each knight.

The magnificent banquet hall is a lofty room two hundred feet in length.

In returning to the city we stopped a while at Eaton college, and then at Stokes Poges, where we sat in the adorable old church and wandered among the graves in the church yard, where the Elegy was written by the poet whose tomb, in that ancient sanctuary, is a shrine where tourists love to linger. Another day took us up the Thames to Hampton court which is the largest palace belonging to the crown; there are one thousand rooms and forty of them have their walls hung with large framed pictures painted by old masters. A splendid park and extensive ficker gardens and out in the distance of exquisite beauty gave a new setting to this old palace.

Long cherished dreams were realized when we visited a number of the famous old colleges in Oxford, and in that lovely little city of Stratford on Avon, walked thru the quaint long fronted old house and fragrant garden on Henley street. An evening sunset hour was spent among the many graves in the church yard well above the river, and in the lovely well cared for church, where in the chancel is the tomb of the Bard of Avon. Few are the days when pilgrims fail to pay their homage at this shrine.

A short motor ride took us to Warwick castle a finely preserved seat, occupied by an American family during the Earl's prolonged absence. A resplendent drawing room and a museum of antiquities were opened to us. A very few miles away were the picturesque ruins of Kenilworth castle; a flower garden and the round tower at the lodge keeper's gate were the only signs of life there.

A journey up the east coast of England and to Edinburgh allowed us to visit the cathedral city of York, where we saw the beautiful Minster, and Durham where we visited the great cathedral and the castle which have a commanding location on the heights of an extensive cliff far above the river and the city. At Ripon we learned of the remarkable ruins of a great monastery in a beautiful piece of woodland not a very great distance from the city. Driving out there we found a place of wondrous beauty. In a flower bedecked open place surrounded by abruptly rising hills were these ponderous ruins, some rising to considerable height, others showing outlines of the chapel altar and the transepts. It is said to have been Norman in architecture.

In Edinburgh we found inexhaustible and varied source of entertainment. One was a regiment band of Scotch Highlanders, and a company of pipers dressed in the tartan plaid of their clan and making a fine show as they marched in with bagpipes, the drummer with marvelous flourishes keeping time and never missing a stroke on his drum. The spirited music of the pipers and the unusual tricks of the drum sticks provoked much gaiety.

Our absorbing interest in the beautiful City of Edinburgh was the historic associations and the incidents connected with the great castle on the promontory, Holyrood palace and other places. Tragic have been these unhappy events that refuse to be forgotten, in the pitiful life of Mary Queen of Scots.

In a drive to Abbotsford we were taken thru Sir Walter Scott's personal rooms, his library of two thousand volumes and his desk and chair were of special interest. Melrose, so lovely in its ruins, has hope of being skillfully restored, and funds are being raised for that purpose. Another day's outing took us, with a company of friends, thru the Trossachs. Over moor land where the purple heather was ablaze along the roadside, children with smiling faces tossed well-tied pretty bunches into our car, and merrily gathered the coins tossed to them. Winding thru the highland the mountains were higher as we began our descent into the beautiful glen of the Lady of the Lake country. Embowered in trees and shrubs was Loch Lomond. Ben Lomond lifted his head proudly above the peaks and from Loch Lomond we looked into the mountains of the Rob Roy country. There was the spot where we wished to read again the poetry and novels of the great poet of Scotland.

Later we went by way of Glasgow and Penrith to the English lakes. From Ambleside to Cumbria was a pleasant walk. That Wordsworth and Ruskin gathered inspiration here and had their favorite nooks was a natural response to nature's bewitching aspect. The last thirty years of Ruskin's life were spent in Cumbria. Brantwood, his home, stands high on the bank above the lake. Ruskin's grave marked with a rustic cross is in the church yard. Wordsworth's grave stood beside in the church yard at Grasmere. It would be too difficult to say which of all the English lakes is loveliest, for all have associations with notable writers, and beauty spots of special note, because of the favor shown by Shelley or other poets or philosophers. Some give the palm to Rydal water or Ullswater or Derwentwater, perhaps to Keswick.

Our next move brought the fulfillment of a long cherished desire to go on a pilgrimage to Canterbury. Volumes have been filed with the story of this ancient city and its most beautiful cathedral, the mother of all of England's cathedrals. It is indeed a wonderful structure, with a more wonderful history.

Walking thru the narrow streets and the environs we almost expected to see Chaucer's merry pilgrims. Turning to cross the river Stour we were attracted by a quaint beam and plaster house with the upper stories projecting over the river. It was the house of the weavers. The hall was very narrow and dark, a little stair led down to a room where the girls were hard at work on their clumsy treadle looms making tea-cloths, towels and other articles, many of them with the traditional Becket design. It is a romantic place. It was in 1685 that the Huguenot weavers fled from France to Canterbury, after the revocation of the edict of Nantes. Since more than a hundred years before that event, the exiled protestants have held regular services in a peaceful underground chapel walled off for them in a part of the crypt of the cathedral. My week's stay was all too short a time to discover the exhaustless charms that cluster about and within that wondrous cathedral. I long to hear those Canterbury chimies again, and to explore further the ancient haunts of history in that medieval city.

A pleasant train ride to Dover, an even more pleasant journey across the channel, and I was in Cahais. Then by rail to Paris where my sister met me, and together we came to the long anticipated end of my journey in this quaint old city of Chateau-Thierry, situated on the banks of the historic Marne river.

THIEF TAKES CASH FROM VAUGHN HOME

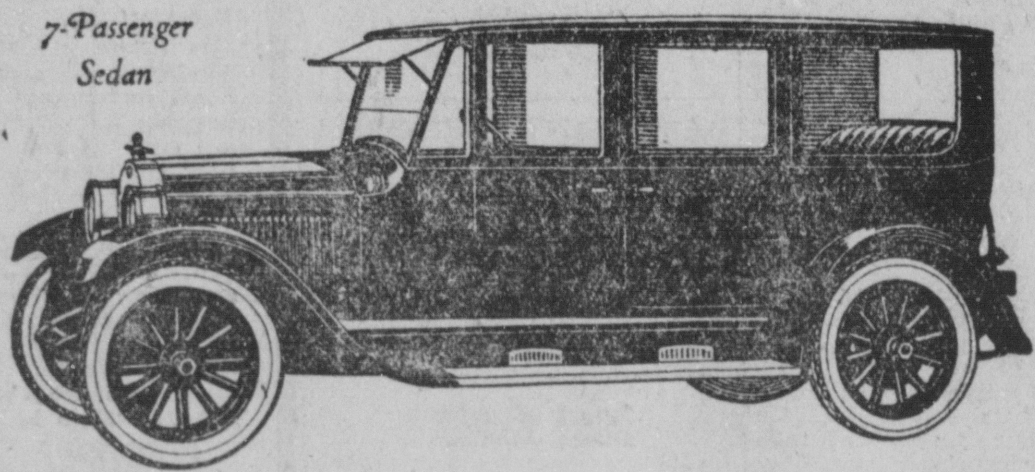

The residence of Jonas Vaughn, 325 East North street, was entered sometime Friday night, and the owner was robbed of $11 in cash. The thief gained entrance thru a window and went into the room where Mr. Vaughn was sleeping. The intruder took the citizen's trousers from a chair, carried them into the adjoining room and searched the pockets. He found a pocketbook containing the money and appropriated it. Police were notified Saturday morning, but as yet no trace of the burglar has been found.
